On 22nd of March 2021, the ADMINS partnership organised an online training on “Sports Law” to showcase the first module of the ADMINS learning toolkit. Despite the restrictive measures related to the COVID pandemic, the ADMINS partnership reached a satisfactory amount of international online attendees.

In particular, the online training started with an introduction from Lorenzo Costantino (IHF) and Verica Mance (PAR). An interesting roundtable followed, concerning the state of the art of Sports Law in the Countries represented in ADMINS (Belgium, Italy, Spain, Sweden and Croatia). This session underlined the regulatory fragmentation in Europe highlighting some common traits and challenges with interesting contributions from participants. Furthermore, the Module1 of the training developed by PAR and UCAM was presented focusing on the explanation of EU institutions dynamics and the main legal acts referred to sports policies. Finally, the closing session showcased more specifically Sports Law cases and judicial decisions (e.g. Bosman Case). The training included also an interactive session with two Quizzes to increase the level of understanding.
