PRACTICAL GUIDE FOR INCOMING STUDENTS

2024/2025

DEAN'S MESSAGE

Dear Incoming Students,

It is with great joy and pride that I welcome you to PAR University of Applied Sciences, as well as to our beloved city of Rijeka.

You have chosen a path that not only will shape your career, but also foster your personal growth, and we are here to support you every step of this exciting journey. Our doors are always open to you: we are not here just to teach you, but to inspire, support and guide you.

I look forward to all that you will accomplish: it has been my experience, that each generation of students brings fresh ideas and energy to our community. On that note, thank you for choosing our university and making us a part of your educational journey. I wish you all a successful academic year, filled with plenty of unforgettable moments!

Sincerely,

Dr. Gordana Nikolić, Assoc. Prof.

SUMMARY

Dear students,

this guidebook was designed to serve you as a valuable resource throughout your academic journey, here in Rijeka.

We hope you'll find it helpful.

Warm regards,

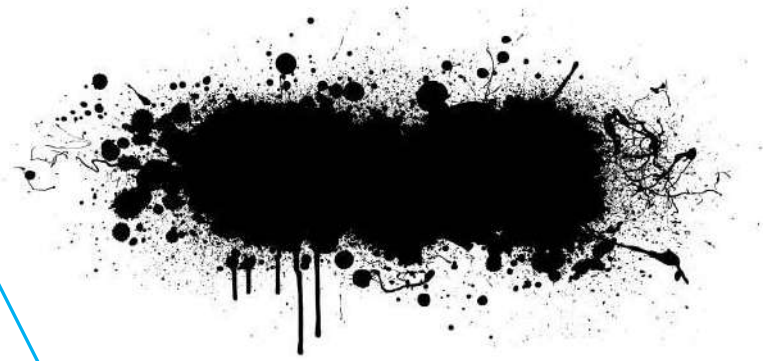

International Office Team

PAR University

"You can shake the world in a gentle way."

- Mahatma Gandhi -

1. About PAR (we tested our Staff)

"First & only private higher education institution of its kind in the region."

- Maja (Accounting)

"...and I should add: the only higher education institution in Croatia established, owned, and led by a woman."

- Marija (Dean's Assistant)

"PAR offers both Bachelor's and Master's degree programs, focused primarily on Business Management (because somebody has to manage the world, and it might as well be you)!"

- Martina (Vice Dean for Academic Affairs)

Trg Riječke rezolucije 4, 51000 Rijeka, Croatia

"90+ student exchange partnerships. Think of us as your passport to the world - minus the paperwork and airport security."

- Nikolina (Head of International Office)

"Located in the heart of Rijeka, combining education with the vibrant coastal city life. How did I do, did I pass?"

- stanka (Housekeeper)

"Known for its student-centered approach and active support for career development."

- Marko (EU Funding Office)

What sets us apart...

"A network of opportunities: we're not just about diplomas, but rather about connections. Whether it's local businesses or international partnerships, we'll make sure you know someone, who knows someone, who gets you that dream job."

- Neda (Lecturer)

"A strong emphasis on a close faculty-student relationship."

- Lucija, student

"While most universities are busy sticking to tradition, we're busy breaking the mold—offering you hands-on learning that actually prepares you for the real world. You know, the one with jobs and everything..."

- Vanja, IT Department

"A picturesque location in the heart of the city."

- Andrej, student

"PAR is known for its flexibility, especially for students who are athletes or professionals looking to balance their careers with their studies."

- Mate, student & footballer

"Small, but mighty: you won't get lost in a sea of students here - We keep things personal. Think of it like studying at a big family gathering, but with fewer embarrassing childhood stories and more focus on your future."

- Marina, secretary

*"We are what we repeatedly do.
Excellence, then, is not an act, but a habit."*

EU 4 DUAL ALLIANCE

PAR is a proud member of the European Dual Studies University – a visionary initiative that unites education, research, innovation and entrepreneurship across regional and European landscapes. This model of higher education seamlessly blends academic learning with practical, work-based experience, giving students the opportunity to apply their knowledge and skills by working and collaborating with our international industry partners. It is this very approach, combined with our modern facilities and experienced faculty, that greatly contributes to our reputation as a forward-thinking academic institution in Croatia.

Three steps to studying at PAR:

2. Before your arrival

1. Nomination:

Your home university must nominate you to PAR University for the Erasmus exchange program.

Nomination Deadlines:

1. June 30 for the fall semester
2. November 30 for the spring semester

3. Acceptance Letter:

Once accepted, you'll receive an official letter of acceptance.

2. Application Documents:

1. Completed application form
2. Learning Agreement *
3. Copy of your passport or ID
4. Health insurance card
5. Two passport-size photos

Application Deadlines:

6. July 30 for the fall semester
7. December 30 for the spring semester

Accommodation

*We strongly encourage you to arrange your accommodation before arriving in Rijeka. ;)

1. University Dormitories (Student Dormitory "Trsat"):

The primary student accommodation is located near the University of Rijeka's campus at Trsat. The dormitory offers affordable housing specifically for students, including international exchange students. Rooms are typically shared (double rooms), though some single rooms may be available. Rent is usually around 200 EUR per student. To book a room, contact Student centre on e - mail address: dom@sri.hr and/or sri.uniri@sri.hr. The rooms are usually given to students on a "first come, first serve" basis.

More info:

https://www.sri.uniri.hr/images/Smjestaj/2024/Student_dormitory_TrSAT_Accommodation_for_erasmus_students.pdf

2. Private Accommodation

Renting a shared flat with other students can be a great way to live more independently while splitting costs.. Depending on the location and size of the apartment, rent can vary from 200 to 500 EUR per month (and usually per person). Sharing with roommates can significantly reduce costs.

Useful Facebook page: Iznajmljivanje stanova Rijeka i okolica \(prva grupa u Rijeci\)

Things to Consider

- Location: Make sure your accommodation is well-connected to the university or public transport.
- Utilities: Ensure whether the rent includes utilities such as electricity, water, and internet. In some cases, these may be charged separately.

3. Hostels and Short-term Rentals

If you're looking for short-term accommodation while you search for a more permanent place, there are several hostels in Rijeka, offering affordable and comfortable options for students.

Hostel Fun

4. Homestay with Local Families

For a more immersive cultural experience, some students opt to stay with local Croatian families. This can give you a chance to practice the language, understand local traditions, and feel more connected to the community. Homestay costs can range between 150 to 300 EUR per month, often including meals.

*Useful Facebook page: Iznajmljivanje stanova Rijeka i okolica (prva grupa u Rijeci)

3. Upon your arrival

! Your first step will be to obtain an OIB (Personal Identification Number). The application is submitted at the tax office; our Erasmus coordinator will guide you through the process. Likewise, you'll need a temporary residence permit. This permit is valid for one year and can be renewed annually if your studies should continue (make sure to apply for renewal at least 60 days before it expires).

EU/EEA Citizens:

You will need:

- A copy of your ID and health insurance card;
- Personal identification number (OIB);
- Acceptance letter from PAR, specifying the amount of the scholarship you will be receiving during the mobility period;
- Tenancy agreement, signed by the owner of the apartment and notarized by a notary public;
- Completed residence registration form and supplementary form (available at the police station or at the International Office).

Non-EU/EEA Citizens:

You will need:

- A copy of your Passport and health/travel insurance;
- Personal identification number (OIB);
- Acceptance letter from PAR, specifying the amount of the scholarship you will be receiving during the mobility period;
- Tenancy agreement, signed by the owner of the apartment and notarized by a notary public;
- Completed residence registration form and supplementary form (available at the police station or at the International Office);
- Fee: 87,59 EUR;
- Student visa, if required.

*For more information, visit the Croatian Ministry of Internal Affairs (MUP) website, or consult the International Office at PAR University.

4. Upon returning home

1. Upon returning home after your Erasmus exchange, one of the key tasks is to collect your Transcript of Records. This document lists all the courses you've taken during your stay, along with your grades and ECTS credits. It will be issued by your host university, and you'll need to submit it to your home institution to ensure your study abroad period is recognized.

2. Make sure you fill in the "After Mobility" section of your Learning Agreement, as it's crucial for the proper transfer of credits. Don't forget to complete the EU survey, which is part of the Erasmus process and helps improve the program for future students.

3. Erasmus Post-Depression (EPD)—the bittersweet, unofficial phase of every Erasmus journey, where you return home only to find out that life without weekend getaways, endless parties, and new international friends isn't quite as thrilling. You might catch yourself using random phrases in Croatian that no one around you understands, scrolling through travel pics like they're long-lost love letters, or desperately trying to recreate those international potluck dinners—only to realize your cooking was better when shared with 10 friends from different countries.

5. Support services

+385 192 – Police

+385 112 – European emergency services number, accessible from anywhere in the European Union.

+385 195 – Maritime search and rescue service

+385 193 – Firefighters

+385 1987 – Road assistance

+385 194 – Emergency medical services (*for regular visits, there is a Student Health Clinic at the Trsat Campus).

6. Meet the locals

A city is not just buildings and streets; it is the people who fill them with life, stories, and spirit.

“Oh, you want to know about Rijeka? Okay, here we go: Rijeka is where history, sport and culture meet, and then they grab a drink or two exclusively at OUR bar. See what we did there (wink)?”

- Ivan & Artem, bartenders

Garçon Bar

! "I overheard my husband Zoran earlier today, while he was talking to one of the guests at our restaurant. He said it is his wife running this place, not him, contrary to what other people in the surrounding area believe.

! I picked a good one, didn't I?"

- Jasna, entrepreneur

 Restaurant Municipium

“People of Rijeka are like the city’s weather: unpredictable, a bit stormy,
but always warm at heart!”

– Šeki, merchant

 Central Market in Rijeka

“I’m giving him a fresh cut that will survive even Bura*. In case it doesn’t, he should blame the wind, not the barber!”

- Elbe, barber

*Bura is a powerful, cold and dry northeastern wind that sweeps down the Adriatic coast.

 Master's Barber Shop

B: "People get surprised when they see we get along so well. What do they think: that we're in here throwing roses at each other?"

(pause)

However, if she eventually starts getting on my nerves, I'll just put her in charge of the cactus section."

S: "She's just joking. You are, aren't you?"

- Sara (daughter-in-law) & Blaženka (mother-in-law), florists

Čičak Flower Shop

What's one message you'd share with our students?

D: "The man who does not read, has no advantage over a man who can't read. I forgot who said that, though."

E: "I'm pretty sure it was Mark Twain who said that. And if he was here right now, he'd probably tell you to read more, so you wouldn't be so forgetful!"

- Danijela & Eni, librarians

 VBZ Bookshop

“My wife said she felt like having fish for lunch today. I guess I better not come home empty-handed! Please, make sure this photo makes me look like I just caught the one that got away last season!”

- Petar, chef

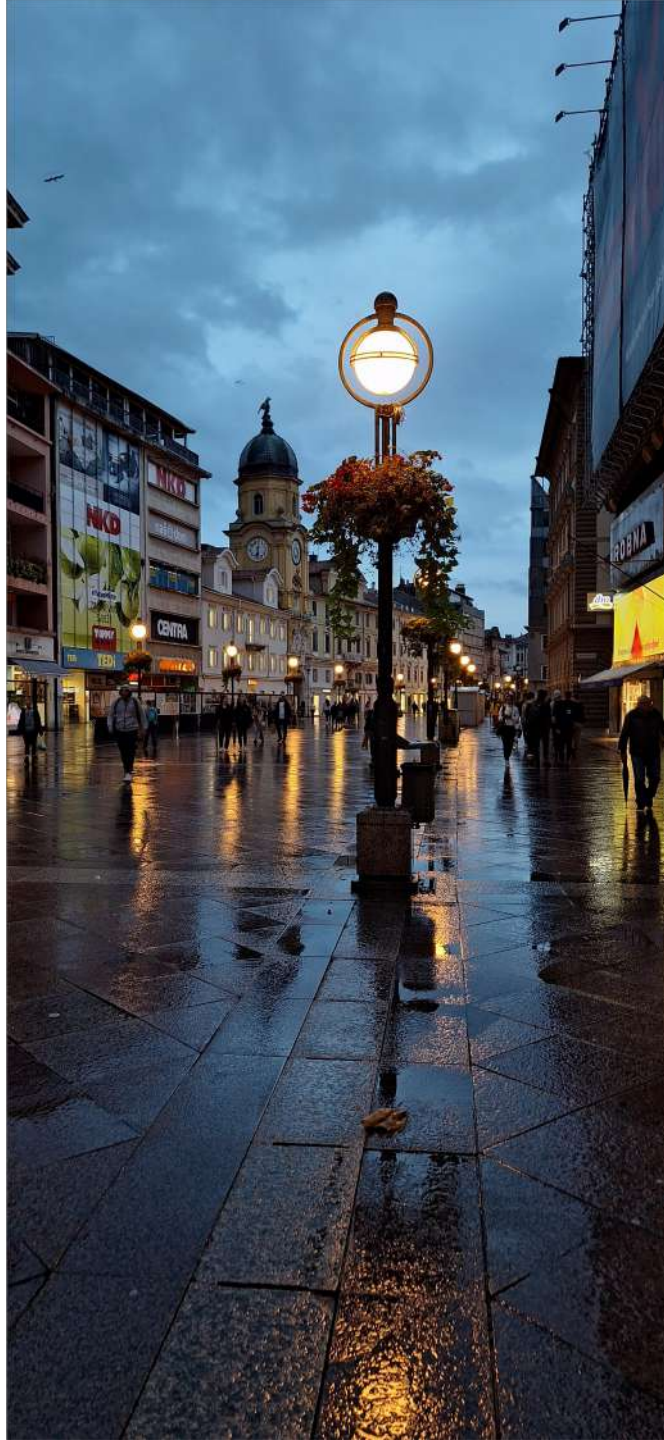

Sablićevo beach

“I love helping students find those 'investment pieces'—you know, the ones they'll wear to every event until graduation! I've gotten pretty good at spotting who's just browsing and who's calling their parents for backup, after seeing the price tag. I used to be in that latter group myself—if only I could turn back time...”

Katarina, store assistant

 Boutique

“In Rijeka, we don’t just walk the Korzo
– we strut it like it’s our runway, with seagulls as our background music.”

– Teodora, student.

*Teodora doesn’t like to be photographed, but enjoys her runways dearly.

Korzo (the main promenade), during a rainy, Sunday afternoon

D: "Busy schedules can wait; coffee on Korzo with Grandma is the real priority."

S: "After all, who's going to remind her to slow down..."

- Dora (student) & Suzana (full-time grandma)

Korzo

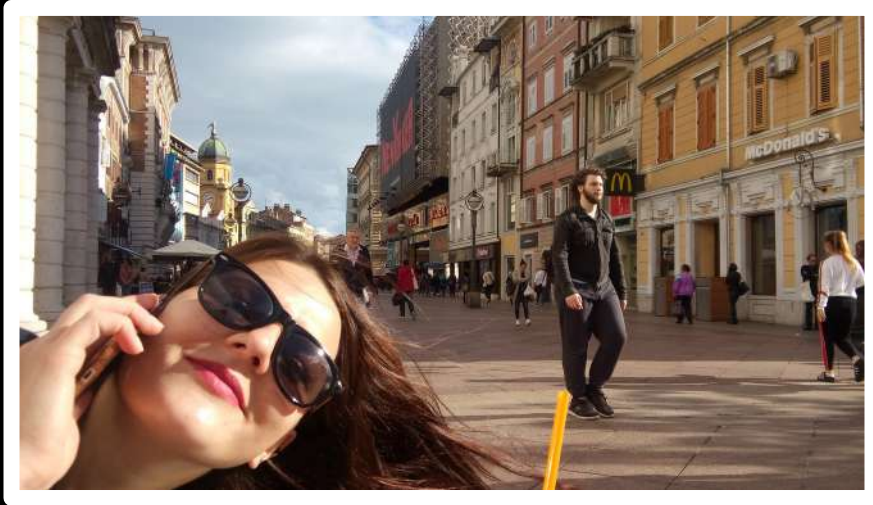

“You can easily spot a student in our Pub. They order a single coffee and make it last three hours, while they "study" on their laptop.”

- Filip, bartender

*Bačva = Barrel

 Bačva Pub

“Rijeka is a city where winds changes faster than my weekend plans, but somehow, coffee breaks stay eternal. This is my third coffee today, and it’s not even noon yet. Go figure...”

- Monika, teacher

“I agree with Monika. You’ll discover that grabbing a coffee is practically a full-time hobby here; you’ll be sipping it for hours. Coffee culture in Rijeka is a beautiful, time-consuming art form – and you’ll love every minute of it.”

- Luka, sommelier

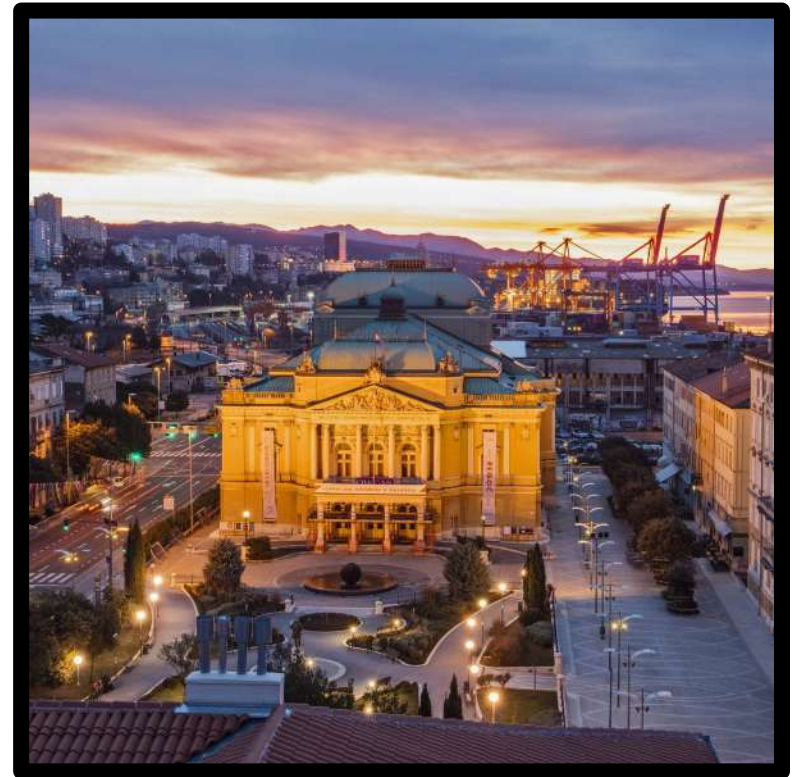

7. Out & About in Rijeka

I decided to study in Rijeka, thinking I was heading to the Mediterranean's version of California. Spoiler alert: Rijeka is something way better."

"Situating along the beautiful Adriatic Sea, Rijeka boasts stunning coastal views while being only a short drive from picturesque mountains. It's Croatia's most cosmopolitan city, crowned European Capital of Culture in 2020 (yes, you can party and feel cultured at the same time)."

- Maša, librarian

"Croatia's laid-back Mediterranean lifestyle, combined with Rijeka's cultural diversity, makes it the perfect place for students who want both adventure and relaxation."

- Eni, student

"Affordable living, vibrant nightlife and Croatia's biggest carnival (where you can finally wear that awkward costume), mean there's never a dull moment. Plus, you're a quick hop away from epic weekend getaways to Venice, Trieste, Ljubljana and the islands just around the corner."

- Andro, waiter

"It's not just about studying; it's about experiencing a city that values creativity, diversity, and adventure. Whether you're into tech, arts, or humanities, Rijeka is a city on the rise, known for its growing start-up scene, eco-conscious initiatives and strong community spirit."

- Lea, student

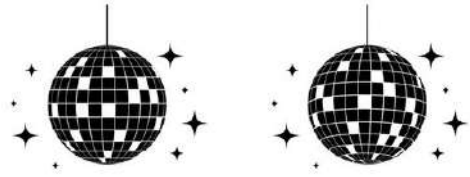

"The Sugar Palace in Rijeka was beautifully renovated as part of the European Capital of Culture 2020 project, transforming this historic 18th-century building from an old sugar refinery into a modern cultural hub that now hosts the Rijeka City Museum."

- Igor, museum curator

City Museum of Rijeka – The Sugar Palace

1. Pace Yourself: Croatians party late. Don't be surprised if clubs don't fill up until well after midnight, so make sure to reserve some energy for the long haul.

2. Cash is King: Many bars and clubs are cash-only, so be sure to have some euro (Croatian currency) on hand. You don't want to be that person trying to pay for drinks with a credit card that nobody accepts.

3. Dress Code: Rijeka is pretty casual, so don't stress too much about fancy outfits. Comfortable but stylish is the way to go.

4. Speaking of rakija, no night out in Rijeka is complete without this local firewater. Rakija is a strong fruit brandy, and it comes in many flavors—from plum to honey to the infamous "will-this-melt-my-face-off" variety. Be warned: it goes down smooth, but it packs a punch.

"Đir po Starom Gradu (A Stroll through the Old Town) is one of the most popular weekly events in Rijeka, especially among students. Every Tuesday, a group of four bars in the Old Town — Rakhia Bar, Garçon Bar, Modesto Club, and Stop Bar—organizes themed parties with great music, affordable drinks, and a lively atmosphere. It's known as "Student Tuesday," offering plenty of student discounts and happy hour specials, making it a budget-friendly night out for those looking to break up the week with a fun evening."

- Antonija, bartender

The Burek Phenomenon

"The nightlife? There's no such thing as a "quiet night out." You go out for one drink, and somehow end up eating a burek on a random street corner at 4 a.m., wondering where it all went wrong (or right?)."

- Lovro, hairdresser

*Burek is made of thin, flaky dough called phyllo (or yufka), and is usually filled with savory ingredients. In Croatia, especially, burek is typically filled with either meat or cheese.

📍 Burek Kod Braće

For our fellow beer lovers...

📍 Goblet Beer Bar & Shop

Goblet Beer Bar & Shop isn't just any spot to grab a drink—it's the place for craft beer lovers. Whether you're a seasoned beer enthusiast or just looking to try something new, Goblet offers a huge variety of brews that cater to every palate, from hoppy IPAs to rich stouts.

But it's not just the beer that makes Goblet stand out. The atmosphere is unbeatable—laid-back and welcoming. And here's the best part: you can also buy bottles to take home. So, if you're in Rijeka and craving a cold one, Goblet Bar and Beer Shop is the ultimate go-to for discovering top-notch brews in a cool, relaxed setting.

The underground Church of electronic beats...

📍 Crkva

“Crkva means "church" in Croatian, and while the club doesn't have a religious connection, its name plays on the idea of the venue being a sort of "temple" for electronic music lovers. Tucked away in the heart of Rijeka, the interior of the club is designed to enhance the underground music scene atmosphere, with a dark, industrial setting that contributes to the overall experience. It is well-regarded in the region for offering a unique and intimate environment where people come together to enjoy high-quality music and performances. Keep an eye on their event calendar, as they frequently bring exciting acts to the city.”

Get Around with Autotrolej Bus

- Rijeka's bus network connects the city center, suburbs, and nearby towns like Opatija and Kastav. Key stops include Korzo and Žabica (the main bus station);
- Tickets: You can buy tickets at kiosks, Autotrolej offices, via mobile apps (mTicket), or directly from the driver (a bit more expensive). Tickets must be validated upon entry;

*Prices: Single tickets cost between 2.00 and 5.20 EUR, depending on the zone;

- Schedules: Buses run from around 5:00 AM to midnight (schedules may vary on holidays);

A variety of telco providers are available in Rijeka, offering good deals from prepaid to post-paid plans. The average price can be as low as EUR 10 per month.

Sport life in Rijeka

"Football fans can catch a match at HNK Rijeka's home stadium, Stadion Rujevica. I've been coming here with my dad since I was three. This year we are going to win the championship, mark my words..."

- Borna, student

"Rijeka's Sports Scene offers a wide range of activities throughout the year, due to its ideal location between mountains and the Adriatic Sea. Whether you're into alpine skiing at Platak Ski Center during winter or windsurfing at Preluk Bay, the city caters to both recreational and competitive athletes."

- Jasna, PE teacher

"Fitness lovers will find numerous gyms, like Fitness Center Tower and Mofit Fitness Club, offering student friendly daily and monthly memberships."

- Mario, fitness trainer

"For outdoor enthusiasts, Učka Nature Park and Risnjak National Park provide excellent hiking."

- Dražen, cardiologist

"Water sports like swimming, sailing, and water polo are prominent, with the city boasting top clubs like VK Primorje."

- Hana, scuba diver

Are you sleeping peacefully, Rio de Janeiro?

If you happen to be in Rijeka for the famous Rijeka Carnival, prepare yourself. It's one of Europe's largest carnivals, and for a few weeks, nothing makes sense. You'll see people dressed as anything from giant sausages to historical royalty roaming the streets. You'll find yourself in the middle of a parade at 3 AM, wondering if this is real life or a very strange dream. And yes, joining the chaos is not just expected, but encouraged."

- Tin, student

8. Explore Croatia

So, you've landed in Croatia, a country where the Adriatic Sea is bluer than your Monday morning blues, the food is as good as your mom's (but you'll never admit it), and people are so chill they could probably teach a class in "Advanced Relaxation".

Whether you're here for a semester or a full academic year, there are some places you have to visit...

DID YOU KNOW?

Croatia is called 'Hrvatska' in the local language, reflecting its rich cultural heritage and proud national identity. The official currency is the Euro (EUR), which replaced the Croatian Kuna (HRK), as of January 1st, 2023.

"Zagreb is a city that one must not pass through, but come to."

- Antun Gustav Matoš -

"If you hear a loud bang around noon, don't worry, it's just the Grič cannon, from Lotrščak Tower, reminding us all to check our watches and realize we're already late for whatever we're doing."

Welcome to ZAGREB: here, even pigeons walk with attitude."

- Ira, student

📍 Ban Josip Jelačić Square

"An enchanting blend of vineyards, olive groves, and hilltop villages."

- Ruža, enologist -

The Istrian Peninsula: Italy's Croatian cousin, where you'll eat your weight in pasta and truffles and drink wine that might seem pricey, but think of it as a good investment for your palate...

PULA: "Pula Arena is a legit Roman amphitheater. They even host concerts here, so catch a show if you can."

- Tina, lawyer

ROVINJ: "It's like a postcard come to life. Narrow, cobbled streets, colorful houses and sea views that will make you rethink your life choices. You'll feel like you've stumbled into a romance novel."

- Silvana, florist

"The sunset of Zadar is the world's most beautiful."

- Alfred Hitchcock -

"ZADAR is that cool cousin who's always been trendy but doesn't brag about it. The city has an actual sea organ. Yes, you heard that right—the sea makes music. So while you're chilling by the sea, the waves are out there composing a symphony."

- Mate, fisherman

📍 Monument to the Sun

The Kornati Islands are a breathtaking maze of rocky islets and crystal-clear waters, offering an untouched paradise perfect for adventurers and nature lovers alike.

„KORNATI? Oh, you mean just 140+ islands casually scattered around the Adriatic, as if nature couldn't decide when to stop showing off? Oui, an absolute go-to!”

- Marion, tourist

Split is renowned for being home to Hajduk Split, a legendary football club founded in 1911, symbolizing the city's passionate sports culture and pride.

"Growing up in Split means two things: you're born knowing Diocletian's Palace like your living room, and you shout 'Hajduk lives forever!' before you even learn to walk."

- Duje, waiter

Marmontova Street

The sunniest spot in Europe, boasting an average of over 2,800 hours of sunshine per year. This makes it a prime destination for sun-seekers and vacationers.

"HVAR is Croatia's answer to St. Tropez. It's where the rich, famous, and us students (thanks to the scholarship) go to party, tan, and live our best Mediterranean life. This is where the yachts dock and cocktails flow. If you're into nightlife, this is your spot."

- Jaime, student

📍 Hula Hula

"Those who seek paradise on Earth should come to Dubrovnik."

—George Bernard Shaw —

"DUBROVNIK is the "Pearl of the Adriatic" and the setting for King's Landing (Game's of Thrones). No worries, the views will make you forget the crowd you just elbowed through."

PAR BUSINESS CAMP (BOOTCAMP)

November 18th – 23rd, 2024 (3 ECTS)

Our annual bootcamp is designed to encourage the entrepreneurial spirit of BA and MA students. Organised as an Erasmus+ Blended Intensive Programme, this year's program will specifically focus on green and digital aspects of entrepreneurship. You will be participating as well, there will be no other classes held during that period.

INCASO

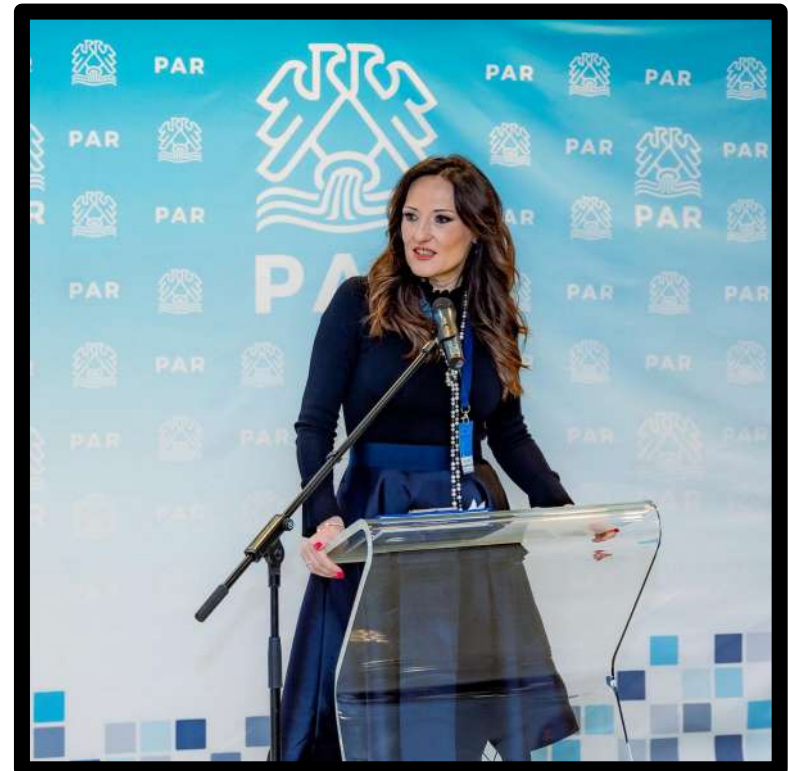

February 24th – March 2nd, 2025 (4 ECTS)

International Carnival School (INCASO) is a unique interdisciplinary program that blends contemporary business topics with colorful carnival festivities. The educational component dives into entrepreneurship, tourism and marketing, all while immersing students in the local cultural traditions. As the highlight of the program, students participate in the International Carnival Parade in Rijeka, one of the world's biggest events of its kind.

PAR International leadership conference

March 21st – 22nd, 2025

PILC is a respected professional and scientific event that has taken place in the scenic town of Opatija since 2012. Each year, the conference explores key topics in leadership and management across business, education, sports, tourism and industry.
